Notes

Please note that the SME status granted, herein, is applicable solely for EMA related activities and does not serve for other EU funding programmes.

In accordance with Article 4.2 of the Annex to Commission Recommendation 2003/361/EC, where at the date of closure of the accounts an enterprise finds that, on an annual basis, it has exceeded the SME headcount or financial ceilings, this will not result in the loss of SME status unless those ceilings are exceeded over two consecutive accounting periods. The company's SME status will, therefore, expire two years after the date of closure of the accounts on which the declaration has been based.

It remains the responsibility of the applicant enterprise to ensure that the information declared in relation to its SME status is accurate. The Agency reserves the right to request further information from the company to establish that the SME criteria are met and may, at any time, perform audits as part of its SME programme. The applicant will be liable to consequences in case of a false declaration.

Information on the company will be published in the public SME register on the EMA website, in line with the company and product profile provided in the declaration form.
